“Doing God’s Work God’s Way” ~Zechariah 4:6

TRANSFORMING CULTURE BY BEING THE BODY OF CHRIST

New Castle First Church of God

Many people believe that “God’s work” is activity done by missionaries, pastors, or churches, I need to clarify what this term really means. The devil has tried to trick us into believing that we can separate our lives into distinct areas—the religious and secular. Once we accept this, he can easily deceive us into thinking that “the Lord’s work” is done only by the clergy or those who serve in a church.

According to Scripture, each believer is “His workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand so that we would walk in them” (Eph. 2:10). There is no division of secular and religious areas in the lives of Christians. Everything that we do is to be done “as for the Lord rather than for men” (Col. 3:23). In faithfully doing our jobs, caring for our homes and families, or meeting needs in the church or community, we are serving Christ and participating in His activity. As “God’s fellow workers” (I Cor. 3:9). We need to know how to accomplish His goals His way.

There is a wonderful principle found in Zech. 4:6-7. Although the work that God ordains varies with each individual and generation, the principle He gave to Zechariah thousands of years ago is still applicable today: “Not by might nor by power, but my Spirit, says the Lord of hosts” (Zech. 4:6). In this verse, we find two contrasting methods for completing a task. To tackle a job with might and power means to depend on our own resources and abilities, laboring with self-determination and reliance on human understanding and strength.

We are not called by the Lord to meet every need or take on every opportunity for service that we encounter. There is only so much He has allotted for each person to do. Does your schedule hold more than you can handle? If so, then it probably includes tasks that God has not meant for you. By spreading yourself too thin, the assignments He chose for you won't be done well, and He will not be glorified. The Lord does not bless what we do in our own self-determination. In fact, He may withdraw His hand, complicate circumstances, withhold the resources, and frustrate our efforts. Self-reliance results in stress, discouragement, and disillusionment. One danger of laboring in our own strength is an attachment to the job rather than to God. Instead of thinking of ourselves as His servants, we can begin to consider the ministry as our own and derive our identity from it. In an attempt to draw self-esteem and purpose in life from a task, we risk making it an idol. A believer's identity is in his relationship with Christ, not in what he achieves for the kingdom.

Zechariah 4:6 tells us that the other option for accomplishing God's purposes is "by His Spirit." Anything the Lord calls us to do should be done with total reliance upon the Holy Spirit, who indwells us. Knowing that human strength was completely inadequate for the service intended for His disciples, Jesus instructed them to wait in Jerusalem until they were "clothed with power from on high" (Luke 24:49). How foolish to toil in inadequacy and frustration when God's gracious provision available within us.

But how can we know if we are relying on the Spirit? First of all, let me tell you what this does not mean. Depending on the Lord is not a matter of praying for His blessing on what we choose to do, abdicating responsibility by "letting go and letting God," or turning to Him as a last resort after exhausting ourselves and running out of options.

True reliance upon the Lord is a deep conviction that we cannot do the work without Him. In other words, if He doesn't work through us, it will not be done. Once of the sweetest prayer God ever hears from His children is, "Oh God, I can't!" because He knows we are about to depend completely upon Him. The goal of our labor should not be to make a big splash, but to end well, having done everything that God entrusted to us—and in a manner that gives Him all the glory and praise. May God bless our work as we labor together for Him.

UNDERGROUND REFUGE'S TALENT NIGHT

Saturday, Sept. 4th from 6-10 PM

Can you sing? Can you dance? Can you play an instrument, or do you have any other crazy or interesting talent? If so, come on out and share it with us at the Underground Refuge.

“We Don’t Wanna Grow Up” Night at the Underground - Saturday, Sept. 25th @ 6-10 PM

Come out and be a big kid with us. There will be board games (chutes & ladders, candy land, etc.) and other kiddie games (duck duck goose, etc.) to play. With lots of yummy special snacks to eat, and a movie about Peter Pan. Everyone is invited!

COMMUNITY OUTREACH Saturday, Oct. 23rd from 6-8 PM

Theme is Bible Stories/Characters. ALL of the candy, craft supplies, and refreshments will be provided by the Underground. But, in order to make this a success, we will need several volunteers who will decorate their trunks, wear costumes, and hand out candy. There is more info in the bulletin. Please see April for more info.

Preschool News

Hosted by Precious In His Sight Preschool

We are thanking and praising God for what He has done over the summer break! We have 11 children registered for Fall 2010 and there are still a couple more that may register before classes start in September! God is so good! The preschool would not be a success without God's blessings and the prayers and support from our church family, especially those who were on our Preschool Promotional Team, and the youth group who helped us at the carnival. Thank you all!

In order to provide these children with the best possible experience, we have two separate classes... a 4-5 year old class that runs Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings from 9-11:30 AM, and a 3 year old class that will run Tuesdays and Thursdays mornings 9-11:30 AM.

We have a lot of exciting and new things planned for this year, and if you would like to come in and volunteer or visit us sometime, please let Stacy or April know, and we will schedule a time.

Also, we have to thank all the guys who worked so hard on our new swing-set! Thanks guys!!! We know it was a long, hard, hot job, but you guys are AWE-SOME!!!

Please continue to pray for God's will to be done through this preschool program. We will keep you updated. Love, Stacy Gudyk and April Ross

An Afternoon Snack that's so Easy Your Kids Can Help You Make Them!

Granola Banana Sticks

Ingredients

- 1/4 cup peanut butter
- 2 tablespoons plus 1-1/2 teaspoons honey
- 4-1/2 teaspoons brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons milk
- 3 medium firm bananas
- 6 Popsicle sticks
- 2 crunchy oat and honey granola bars, crushed

Directions

- In a small saucepan, combine the peanut butter, honey, brown sugar and milk; cook until heated through, stirring occasionally.
- Peel bananas and cut in half widthwise; insert a Popsicle stick into one end of each banana half. Spoon peanut butter mixture over bananas to coat completely. Sprinkle with granola. Serve immediately or place on a waxed paper-lined baking sheet and freeze. Yield: 6 servings.
